

Loudoun Tourism Board Recognizes Clerk in Loudoun

The Loudoun Convention & Visitors Association celebrated tourism leadership in Loudoun County at its 2008 Tourism Awards ceremony recently at the Dulles Holiday Inn. Several businesses and individuals were recognized at the annual awards ceremony for making contributions to the local tourism industry. Loudoun County Clerk of the Circuit Court Gary Clemens was named the winner of the Hometown Star Award which is designated to recognize a local individual or organization that invited and hosted meetings, conventions or sports events in the county during the previous year. Clemens was cited for hosting the annual convention for the Virginia Court Clerks Association in 2008.
